"SAFE AND SANE" DAY.

Governor Dorey has designated next Saturday as "Safe and Sane" day in Georgia, and recommends that the farmers and business men of each community shall get together on that day and take steps to insure a reduction of the cotton acreage for the present year.

The movement may well be called "safe and sane," for therein lies the solution of the cotton problem. Another crop of normal size can only be raised if the price of cotton is reduced. Without some sort of understanding and an organized effort, the cotton growers are going to be at sea as regards the future. With a few of them agreed to reduce, others will be at liberty to increase their acreage. It is no special accusation against the farmer to say that he will do this. It is characteristic of mankind to plan to avail himself of the sacrifices and successes of other men. Let a body of business men organize to do a certain thing—to close on a certain day, for instance—and you'll find some independent character who feels justified in going contrary to the agreement of his fellows, even sometimes when he has entered into the compact himself. It is that way in every walk of life—men seek to grasp the psychological moment created by others. It will be that way in the cotton industry. With half the farmers determined to reduce, the other half will feel free to increase their acreage. Therefore an agreement must be as universal as possible to become effective.

In Georgia there are thousands of farmers who have already determined to cut their acreage. Prices and labor conditions have brought them to this determination. They have found greater profit in other lines. These will not need to be pledged. Indeed, there is going to be a great reduction without organization; but the better organized the farmers are, the better able they will be to dictate the price of cotton. They may as well bear in mind, at the same time, that they are not going to be able to fool anybody who is interested in their acreage. It is a fact that cotton speculators over the country do not rely on published declarations of reduction in acreage. Their system of keeping records is as near perfect as that employed by the United States government itself. If Georgians pledge to plant only five acres to the plow, and then plant ten, they do not deceive the men who are interested in the cotton fields. If the cotton farmers of Georgia decree crop conditions, which are really better than they represent, they are fooling nobody, for the men who are looking ahead toward the cotton crop have their eyes on every acre in the cotton section. They know seasons and conditions, and are alert to every change in prospects. The only way to convince the speculators that there is going to be a short crop, is to plant a short crop. They will see the acreage, and will know that that means business. Words do not always mean business, and those who buy our cotton are fully aware of that fact. Then, if our people are counting on reduced acreage to boost the price, they must show that reduced acreage in good faith. Promises and resolutions will only be taken at their face value.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE COMING.

By the narrow margin of one vote, the Senate of the United States this week defeated the Susan B. Anthony woman suffrage resolution. This resolution provided that the question of national woman suffrage should be written into the constitution of the United States, and that two-thirds of the state voting favorably would enact the amendment. The House of Representatives had previously adopted the measure by the necessary two-thirds vote. A change of one vote in the Senate would have meant its submission to the states.

The Susan B. Anthony measure has been before Congress for half a century. At the outset it had few supporters. In the South it was looked upon as almost a crime—even as a prohibiting measure—and there were few who would have dared express favor for woman suffrage. As time has passed, the measure has gained in strength until today we have almost witnessed its enactment into law. Whatever one may desire, the certainty of woman suffrage is upon us. If not the next Congress, the one after it will enact the measure into law. Those who live a few years will see women voting in Georgia, and our children will not be old men and women when they will accept it as a matter of right.

What with national prohibition and woman suffrage, we are ready to admit that the "world do move."

BILLIONS FOR WHEAT GROWERS

Newspaper dispatches state that the United States government finds itself "up against" a loss of billions of dollars on account of its guarantee to the wheat growers of $2.26 per bushel for their present crop. This is due to the ending of war after the government had fixed the price.

And we find ourselves howling in dismay that the government is called upon to buy the output of the wheat growers at a price above its real market value while we, the cotton producers of the south, are left to limp along as best we could with declining prices and uncertain markets. We even find ourselves condemning the Democratic party as derelict in its duty to the southern farmers—the men who have always voted the Democratic ticket and kept ours the "solid south." And we stop a minute in our ravings and remember that it is our own conduct that we of the south are not eating out of the same spoon the wheat growers are about to be fed from. There was talk of bringing out the spoon to feed us last fall, and we bucked like steers. We absolutely refused to eat out of spoons. If we could eat right out of the pail, we simply wouldn't eat. We wanted cotton left absolutely alone. We defied the government to touch our product. We did this through our leaders and politicians from every state in the land. We sent men to Washington to oppose cotton price-fixing, and they testified on oath before some sort of committee to the declaration that it cost the farmers of the south from thirty-five to forty-five cents per pound to raise cotton. It was untrue, and they knew it, but we just simply went determined that we were going to get all there was to be had for our cotton, and we had visions of fifty cents per pound. We refused to sell at thirty-six cents, and let our contracts go by default. We argued that a farmer was under no obligation to pay his debts with thirty-five cent cotton if he could hold it a month or two and get forty-five cents. We argued that he was under no obligation to redeem pledges to the government, if we stood to gain a few cents per pound by holding our staple.

And we held it. Now we want the government to establish kicking machines in every precinct to deal with those of us who have held our cotton at the advice of those wise and wonderful leaders who are always in the forefront advising farmers what to do after they find out that the farmers are already inclined to do that thing, in order to hold their place at the public pie counter.

Meantime, while we are wondering if we ever will learn anything, we are taking stock to find out how badly we are busted, and figuring on the shortest way back to the starting point. All this while the wheat growers of the west, who found their wheat in the grip of the government, are about to "mop up" to the tune of billions of good gold dollars because they did not succeed in staving off government price-fixing.

GEORGIA MAN HAD QUITE A SIEGE

In Hospital, But Improved Greatly After Taking Ziron Iron Tonic.

In a recent statement, J. H. Martin of Mount Vernon, Ga., says: "I was in the hospital with stomach trouble and had quite a siege. It seemed I would never get my strength back after I came out, I had been so ill. I asked all over, I was nervous, restless and yet did not feel like getting around. My skin was yellow, my appetite poor. I was in pretty bad shape and began to look around for a tonic. I felt like part of the trouble was lack of iron in my blood. I was so easily worried, so easily upset. I heard of Ziron and knew it would help me. I began to take it and the improvement was great. It strengthened me, renewed my nerves and found up my system."

When you feel that you need strength, remember that Ziron is a perfect preparation of iron salts, combined with other strengthening ingredients. Try Ziron.

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

Avoid Its Dangerous Stage. There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hawking and spitting and other distasteful features. The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course, until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications. S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source, and removes the germs of the disease from the blood. Get a bottle from the drugist today, and begin the only logical treatment that gives real relief. You can obtain special medical advice without charge by writing to Medical Director, 27 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

PROGRAM WEEK BEGINNING SATURDAY, FEB. 15. SATURDAY—Lycene System presents Vienna's Royal Hawaiian Singers and Players. Matinee, 2:30; Night, 5:00. Vienna's Royal Hawaiian Quintet was selected to fill lyceum engagements after the Affiliated Managers had listened to concerts by every standard Hawaiian company in America. Each member of the Quintet is a soloist, either instrumental or vocal, and the ensemble work of the company is most pleasing. Their repertoire include all the songs of Hawaii sung in native tongue, many of the popular airs of this country and classical operatic numbers. The entire company appears in native Hawaiian dress. They present a musical program of real merit.

MONDAY—Paramount Feature featuring Ethel Clayton in "The Girl Who Came Back." The daughter of an expert crackman has no duty life of it, particularly if she is a thoughtful girl and her father has been unkind to her. Ethel Clayton takes this difficult role in "The Girl Who Came Back," and the coming back part will make you catch your breath now and again. She learns to break away and wipe away with the best of them, but one day cupid burgled her heart. A wonderful scene. Don't miss it.

TUESDAY—Vitaphone greatest serial, Albert E. Smith presents Antonio Moreno and Carol Holloway in "The Iron Test," also a Big V Comedy featuring Walter Mall and Den Barclay in "Daring and Dynamic," and Pathe News. WEDNESDAY—Paramount Artcraft Special, the Famous Players, presents "The Husk Within" with Dorothy Gish, George Fawcett and a special star. Also a splendid patriotic appeal. Admission for Wednesday, 20 and 30 cent. THURSDAY—Lucky presents Lila Lee in the "CRUISE OF THE MAKE-BELIEVES," by Tom Gallon; scoring by Edith Kennedy; directed by George Melford. A Paramount Picture.

15,000 DEATHS IN GEORGIA FROM THE FLU

SECRETARY OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH MAKES REPORT SHOWING A DECLINE.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 10.—Influenza in all its stages, and how to combat its spread, was discussed by physicians and health authorities from every section of Georgia at a meeting held here today, Vice-President McDuffie, of the State Board of Health, presiding. Two features made the conference of unusual interest. First, a report by Capt. G. R. Moffit, of his serum tests, made at Fort McPherson, Georgia Tech, Oglethorpe University, federal prison in Atlanta, and at Waynesville. These tests showed a slight number of those treated developed influenza, and only one or two pneumonia. The experiment was ascertained to be unusually gratifying in every instance, and no ill effects were reported by patients, it was stated. The second feature was the conflict of opinion between Dr. C. L.

COUGHING SPELLS BREAK YOUR REST

Put a stop to them with old reliable Dr. King's New Discovery

That raw, hoarse throat must be soothed. That phlegm-laden chest must be loosened. That cough must be checked so you can sleep.

Try this for Constipation. Keep the bowels on schedule time with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the system freed from poisonous wastes, the complexion clear, the stomach sweet, the tongue uncoated, the breath unstained. Mild yet positive in action.

WILLIAMS, HEALTH OFFICER OF MACON, AND DR. W. F. BRUNNER, HEALTH OFFICER OF SAVANNAH, OVER THE VALUE OF PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES. DR. WILLIAMS TOOK ISSUE WITH HIM, SAYING THE EPIDEMIC HAD GONE IN WAVES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, IRRESPECTIVE OF PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES. HE SAID HE HAD NOT ADVOCATED THEM HIMSELF, BUT HAD ADVOCATED THEM BECAUSE OF THE PRESSURE OF PUBLIC OPINION. DR. M. M. McCord, health officer of Rome, also agreed with Dr. Williams as to the benefit to be derived from prohibiting public gatherings. He described the vigorous efforts to check the disease in Rome. Dr. John Schleher, of Thom- asville, said closing down may not accomplish good, but the people think it does. He advocated the keeping of better records.

Mr. T. F. Abernethy, secretary of the state board, said reports received indicated influenza was again the decline in Georgia. He estimated there had been one million cases and fifteen thousand deaths in Georgia since last October from influenza. The conference passed a recommendation that every county have a health department, including inspection facilities, with the state board supervising.

VETERAN HAD TO GET UP 8 TIMES

HAS BEEN TAKING DRECO ONE WEEK, AND LAST NIGHT HE HAD TO GET UP ONLY TWICE, ACCORDING TO HIS STATEMENT.

"I am a veteran 54 years old and for the past forty years have been employed in the city of Macon, Ga. A man of my age feels that he is pretty well worn out when his kidneys get up as much as eight times during the night to relieve himself," says Mr. Newton Fraser, who now resides on rural route No. 3.

"My general health was very much run down, and in addition to my kidneys bothering me, I also suffered daily from constipation, and my stomach was very weak so that almost everything I ate disagreed with me. I often had dizzy spells and my nerves were very shaky and my sleep was poor."

"I read almost every day in the papers about the new medicine Dreco, and the good results Georgia people were getting, so I got a bottle, and it was right to the spot for me. When I had taken it only a week, I only had to get up twice during the night; my constipation was relieved; the dizzy spells, drowsiness, and nervousness were all gone."

What Dreco has done for this old gentleman, it can do for others, if they will just make up their minds to get a bottle today and start taking it. All druggists sell Dreco and it is very strongly recommended in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Co., druggists.—adv.

REMOVAL OF EMBARGO MEANS HIGHER PRICES

SENATOR HOKE SMITH WORKING TO SAVE COTTON GROWERS FROM BIG LOSS.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 10.—That the removal of the embargo regulations on the export of cotton is a prime factor in securing a better price for the south's great staple, is the opinion of Atlanta bankers and business men, among the latter being many who have extensive plantation interests and are holding large quantities of cotton which they bought from their tenants at 30 cents or better.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia is now exerting himself in Washington to secure the complete eradication and removal of all embargo restrictions, which he declares are no longer necessary, now that Germany has been crushed as a military power and the war has come to an end. While he is at work in the interests of the farmer in Washington, the various local organizations in Georgia and other states are doing everything in their power to the same end, and in addition it is being strongly insisted that the blockade of the ports of Germany and Austria be removed, so that cotton can be shipped into those countries.

Upon the outcome of these efforts will depend in a large measure the increased price of cotton in the next two or three months.

AVOID THE FLU BY KEEPING THE LIVER ACTIVE

DOCTORS FIND CALOTABS, THE NEW NAUSEALSS CALOMEL, BEST LAXATIVE FOR COLDS AND PREVENTIVE FOR INFLUENZA AND PNEUMONIA.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—In explanation of refusal to release medical officers from the army except in extreme cases, Surgeon General Ireland has written to Senator Smith of South Carolina stating that over 9,000 officers, or more than half of those on duty Nov. 11, have been discharged from the army medical armistice, although the responsibilities of the department have in no way decreased since that date.

Gen. Ireland says that in addition to caring for a million and a quarter soldiers now on duty in this country, the medical department has been called on to care for 62,000 sick and wounded soldiers returning from overseas and will shortly have to take care of 70,000 more. The same situation is declared to exist with regard to enlisted men in the army medical service.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Perhaps you can congratulate yourself that a "stitch in time" has saved you serious illness. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist recommends and guarantees Calotabs and will cheerfully give back your money if you are not delighted.—(adv.)

FOR THE CHILDREN
Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drugs and most effective in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.

When You Can't Sleep
and you get up as tired as when you went to bed, it is a sure sign that your nerves are out of tune. If this continues long, a nervous breakdown and a train of ills are bound to follow.

The experience of Mrs. H. L. Redman, of New Haven, Conn., will interest you. She says: "For several months I suffered from extreme nervousness and sleeplessness. My nerves were completely unbalanced. After doing light housework I was completely fatigued, and I was unable to sleep. I began taking DR. MILES' NERVE TONIC and the first night I slept soundly. I can truly say DR. MILES' NERVE TONIC completely cured me."

DR. MILES' NERVE TONIC is a safe, reliable medicine for all nervous disorders, such as sleeplessness, nervousness, hysteria, headaches, neuritis, etc. It is non-alcoholic and contains no harmful drugs. It has been helping nervous, distracted, discouraged people for 30 years. Ask your druggist about it.

DR. MILES' NERVE TONIC is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience at the next day's work. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

house was around the sizzling point, but Overstreet just wiped his brow and kept going.

"In the president's last address before congress, just before his departure for Europe, you endeavored to embarrass him. In the course of his speech, when he made the statement that he himself proposed to attend the peace conference, our side of the house arose en masse and applauded him, but you remained in your seats like statues of stone to show him and testify to the world in no uncertain manner your disapproval of his course."

"Not only have the members of this house and others holding public office attempted to annoy the president and embarrass his administration, but citizens in private life who have enjoyed the highest office in the gift of the American people have contributed their portion toward making the road thorny for the president to travel."

Then the republicans began throwing their lances, but Overstreet refused to be caught.

Fairfield, Haugen, Ayer and others jumped to their feet. Some on tried to force an adjournment on the point of no quorum.

By this time fans were in order—it was hot and getting hotter.

"What is true?" shouted the Georgians.

"Some of you have voted for these war measures because you knew your constituents would defeat you for reelection if you did not support them. Some of you, I am persuaded, voted for them grudgingly, but you felt compelled to vote as you did because they represented the views of your constituents."

Bang! Bang! That was a clincher, and the republicans' eyes for the gong was heard all over the capitol.

REPUBLICANS RESENT "CHARGES OF COWARDICE"

The Georgia member was interrupted by some of the old war horses.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—a war druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience at the next day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

MUST HAVE BEEN "SOME" FROLIC SATURDAY NIGHT

That sure must have been "some" frolic Saturday night out around the neighborhood of our correspondent's home. That is, if we are to judge from the report received by mail today. The name of the writer was not given, and we do not know to whom we are indebted for the report, but it is so expressive that we cannot refuse to publish it.

The report, with only the name of the host omitted, is as follows: "From the frolic it—"

"Saturday night, it disturbed the country people around them, and the town thought it was the negro soldiers from France. Public by Request."

And that was the sort of frolic our country friend had. He was not giving names because we do not care to suspend publication for the present, and the reporter neglected to give his name to substantiate the report.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS OF BULLOCH COUNTY

Mr. J. O. Martin, state school supervisor, will conduct a teachers' institute at the Sand Hill Ford school on February 20 and 21.

He will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Holt, state school extension worker; Miss Lorraine Parker, teacher, of physical training at the G. M. and I. College, Milledgeville, and Miss Susan Mathews, whose special work is domestic science.

This promises to be a most helpful meeting for the teachers.

The interior of this school building will be remodeled during the first three days of the week, and it will then be a demonstration of how a school room should be arranged.

All the teachers in the county are required to attend this institute.

Each one is requested to bring lunch enough for one each day.

The estimate of the best informed, Mr. Ousley said, is that there will be a carry-over of 3,000,000 bales of American cotton at the end of this season. But he pointed out that there was as much carry-over last year, and yet with all production cotton advanced by September 9 to an average of 35.38 cents a pound. Exports to the present time are more than half the exports at this time last year, and there is every reason to expect largely increased exports from this time forward.

"If we look only at the present supply, the temporary stagnation of movement and the industrial and political chaos in Europe," he continued, "we will despair of early relief; but if we look beneath the surface of the situation and if we have any faith whatever in the recuperative energies of mankind, we will realize that the remedy for the present embarrassment is in our hands. We must know and must consider only the favorable facts, or try to conceal the unfavorable facts, we only fool ourselves. The cotton buying and manufacturing interests take the pains to be fully informed; they know the truth and they know also how to appraise the very purposes and plans now being considered, for they know the economic conditions and conditions in the south and can fairly judge just what may be done and what cannot be done in the present situation."

At the beginning of the planting season, he said, the south confronts a situation which may easily develop into a calamity, but which, rightly used, may be the means of a forward step in sound agriculture and regional prosperity. He pointed out the similarity of the present situation to that of the fall and winter of 1914, when the farmers sold at an average of 7 cents a crop of cotton that had cost them 9 to 12 cents. "But," he continued, "as we absorbed the record crop of 1914 in the months of the years following, so may we absorb the remainder of the crop of 1918 in another small crop in 1919."

The world, Mr. Ousley said, actually needs more cotton than the United States has to sell, yet the United States cannot immediately sell all the cotton it has. Those interested in selling cotton have looked only at the world's dire need for supplies, and said, while those interested in buying cotton have looked only to the military, commercial, transportation and political aftermath of the European war and seem to think that the present chaos in Europe will continue indefinitely and to hope that the present supply will be sacrificed.

The solution of the problem, Mr. Ousley concluded, lies simply in safe farming. The task of freeing the south from bondage to cotton, for a number of reasons, has been slow, he said, but the cause of safe farming was greatly promoted on the outbreak of the European war, which increased the demand for food and feed supplies and decreased the demand for cotton. From 1914 to 1918, the cotton growing states decreased their production of cotton and greatly increased their production of food and feed crops.

"If we make the same progress in food and feed crops in 1919 that we have made in the preceding four years," he said, "there will not be land or labor enough left to produce more cotton than the world requires. What is the inducement to produce more food, feed and livestock? The answer is plain. If there is one thing that seems clear in the confusion of the European situation, it is that for several years Europe will require large supplies of American livestock products. Meat and corn are the principal items of food, and they both promise to be high for some time to come."

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF FRENCH PREMIER.

Paris, Feb. 13.—Premier Georges Clemenceau, characterized by Lloyd George as "France's Grand Young Man," was attacked today by an anarchist, Emile Cottin, known as "Milou."

Three shots were fired, three of which struck the Premier. One bullet lodged in the muscles of the shoulder, penetrating deeply, but so far as is present known, not injuring the spine or penetrating the lungs. Two bullets bruised the right arm and hand.

Two other bullets are reported to have passed through the Premier's clothing.

At the time of the attempted assassination M. Clemenceau had just left his home to drive in a motor car to a conference with Col. Edward M. House of the American peace delegation and Arthur J. Balfour, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, through bleeding profusely, M. Clemenceau was able to return to his household and waived aside anxious inquirers with "It is nothing."

Latest reports from his attendants show that his condition was satisfactory and that he was cheerful throughout the day, despite occasional fits of coughing.

For the present it has been decided by the surgeons that extraction of the bullet may not be necessary, and arrangements have been made to take radiographs of the injured parts.

Cottin, whom the police believed to be a somewhat harmless person, associating himself with anarchists and aiding in their propaganda, declared that he had planned to kill the Premier because M. Clemenceau "was the enemy of humanity" and was preparing for another war.

"He who does not wish to be guilty of a crime which is preventable if we do not show indifference, should come freely and openly into my league."

The appeal states that it has been numerously signed and gives addresses where would-be members may join.

FIFTY-FIVE ACRE TRACT BRINGS $9,600.

The tract in west Statesboro known as the W. T. Smith farm, recently the property of Mr. Alex Smith, was sold at public outcry Tuesday and was bought by Mr. Joshua Smith for $9,600. The tract contained fifty-five acres and is all under cultivation.

The land was placed in the hands of the Chas. E. Cone Realty Co. to be sold in small farms and was divided into ten tracts. At the outset these tracts were sold separately, with the explanation that it would later be offered in a lump and sold in that shape which brought the highest price.

The late W. T. Smith operated a farm on this tract for several years, and it was conceded to be a garden spot. Mr. Smith made an offer for the tract to Mr. Alex Smith for $10,000. Mr. Alex later bought it with the growing crop for $16,000. He made 55 bales of cotton on the 55 acres last season.

The sale Tuesday so far below the original valuation was due entirely to the decline in cotton prices. It is a choice piece of property.

GERMAN LEAGUE TO FIGHT FOR KAISER.

Will bring pressure to bear on Holland to refuse the allied demand for him.

Weimar, Feb. 13.—An urgent appeal to all Germans to unite to prevent former Emperor William from being delivered up for trial was published tonight in the Landes Zeitung Deutschland, a new government organ being issued here. The appeal is headed: "League of German men and women for the protection of the person, freedom and life of William."

Appended is a statement by Prince Henry of Prussia who was asked to assume sponsorship for the league, but declined in favor of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. The appeal reads: "The life of a German citizen is endangered by the shameful demands of our opponents that Emperor William II shall be delivered up for execution. This we must not do. We must and deeply humiliating insult to the honor of Germany. To guard against such a delivery there shall be created a gigantic league of German men and women who intend to save the German people from this everlasting disgrace."

The appeal quotes the sentence, "unworthy is the nation which fails to do everything for its honor's sake," and continues: "The league to be created emphasizes specifically and protests from the start against the implication that it has other intentions that are remote from its thought, and declares it will make no effort to restore the former government or conditions. On the contrary, the purpose outlined above is its only goal. Former diplomats and other councillors of the emperor are to be induced by the league to place their knowledge of the situation at its disposal for the writing of newspaper articles to be given out by the league. Through the compilation of these articles into a white book it will be easy to prove completely the innocence of William II, and to show the world clearly the truth that has been so distorted by the Entente. Even the German people—God have pity—have been deceived themselves. But by the fact alone that millions of German men and women openly announce their conviction by joining the league in protest against the emperor's delivery, the Dutch government will be governed in its determination to uphold the correct viewpoint of international law. The consequence will be that the Entente will have to give little Holland credit that it does not leave him who put his trust in her—the hard pressed emperor—in the lurch."

"He who does not wish to be guilty of a crime which is preventable if we do not show indifference, should come freely and openly into my league."

TELLS COTTON MEN TO USE JUDGMENT

EXERCISE PATIENCE AND FARM WISELY DURING 1919, IS ADVICE GIVEN BY OUSLEY.

New Orleans, Feb. 17.—"There is not too much cotton if we profit by the experience of the past, exercise a little patience and farm wisely in 1919."

Clarence Ousley, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, thus concluded a summary of the cotton situation in an address today before the Cotton Conference. The limiting factors of normal consumption, Mr. Ousley said, are the time necessary to restore the dismantled mills in France and Belgium, to reorganize the mills of Germany and Austria, and for the impoverished people of Europe to recover normal buying power. The latter, he thought, is "the most important" in the long view, though the first two are more important, in the short view. It should be assumed, he said, that for several years cotton consumers in Europe will practice the strictest economy and therefore will not buy as much American cotton as they bought in the last years of their prosperity.

The estimate of the best informed, Mr. Ousley said, is that there will be a carry-over of 3,000,000 bales of American cotton at the end of this season. But he pointed out that there was as much carry-over last year, and yet with all production cotton advanced by September 9
